Kumon is a world-renowned after-school enrichment program that offers math, English, and Chinese classes to students from preschool through secondary school. Founded by Mr. Toru Kumon in Japan in 1954, the program aims to help children learn independently and reach their full potential. With over 3.5 million students enrolled across more than 60 countries, including Singapore, Kumon continues its mission to develop strong academic foundations and nurture self-learning abilities. The program provides a range of resources for parents and students, including worksheets, answer books, and online materials. Students work independently on worksheets that cater to their individual learning needs, allowing them to strengthen fundamental abilities and develop essential study skills. Kumon Singapore follows the same methodology as its global counterpart, with a focus on helping children learn independently. For currently enrolled families and students, Kumon offers additional at-home resources, including free and extra online materials, to further reinforce their child's skills. Topics include word problems and geometry - shapes, allowing students to explore and practice their knowledge.
